- You can use the Hay Card to withdraw cash at ATMs (subject to daily limits).
- Your Hay Account is linked to your Hay Card. You can make Pay Anyone transactions from your Hay Account via the Hay App.
- You can only access the value you have loaded to your Hay Card. The Hay Card is not a credit card.
- Your Hay Account is not a bank account and no interest will be payable.

04 Significant Benefits of the Hay Card and Hay Account

The significant benefits of the Hay Card are:

- it reduces the need to carry cash and is a convenient way to make payments at merchants who accept Visa prepaid and debit Hay Cards;
- it is reloadable, you can add extra funds to it as many times as you like (subject to daily limits);
- you can only access the value that you have loaded which helps you control spending;
- the Hay Card can be used on the internet or telephone to make payments;
- the Hay Card can be used to withdraw cash at ATMs (subject to daily limits);
- no Hay currency conversion fees apply (although other financial institutions involved in the conversion may do so);
- Hay does not charge a fee for using an ATM while overseas where you withdraw up to $500 in a calendar month. Where you withdraw more than $500 in a month, a fee of 1.5% of the withdrawal amount (in excess of the $500) applies.
- ATM operator fees may apply.
- if your Hay Card is lost or stolen you can immediately freeze the Hay Card through the Hay App; and

- you can cancel the Hay Card within the Hay app.

Significant benefits of the Hay Account are:

- you can see detailed information about merchants you purchase goods from;
- you can make payments from and receive payments to your Hay Account instantly in the same way you do a bank account (even though the Hay Account is not a bank account);
- you can easily search all transactions via amount, date, merchant name and location;
- you can track monthly spending via categories and merchants;
- you can track travel spending per country or trip automatically with travel mode;
- you can easily see foreign exchange values of your held funds in $AUD to local international currency;
- you receive the Visa exchange rate at the interbank rate at the time of settlement (no margin, spread or fees charged by Hay).

05 Significant Risks of the Hay Card and Hay Account

The significant risks of the Hay Card and Hay Account are:

- unauthorised transactions can happen if your Hay Card is lost or stolen, if your PIN is revealed to an unauthorised person, as a result of fraud, or if you breach the terms and conditions of the Hay Card / Hay Account outlined in this PDS or the terms and conditions;

- you might not be able to get your money back if unauthorised transactions or mistaken transactions occur. The more you load to your Hay Account the more you could lose due to an unauthorised transaction;
- due to equipment errors, malfunctions or equipment being used incorrectly, the same transaction may be processed more than once or transactions may not be processed at all;
- merchants and ATM operators (domestic and international) may charge fees for using the Hay Card at their facilities and these fees may increase;
- if the network enabling the use of a Hay Card or Hay Account is unavailable, you may not be able to perform transactions or get information using the Hay Card;
- merchants may, at their discretion, refuse to accept the Hay Card as a method of payment. You should always check with the merchant that it will accept the Hay Card before purchasing any goods or services;
- you will not earn interest on any available balance that is stored on your Hay Card/ Hay Account;

- the Financial Claims Scheme (see fcs.gov.au) does not apply in relation to your Hay Card or your available balance. If Hay fails, any available balance held on your Hay Card will not be protected by the FCS, and you may lose all or part of your available balance. The risks associated with the Hay Card may therefore be increased when you load large amounts of money onto the Hay Card; and
- as Hay has not taken into account your individual circumstances or needs and you should get your own independent tax advice on the impact that the Hay Card or Hay Account may have on your personal tax liability.
